

HUSTONVILLE.

Teachers wishing to be examined must wait until the first Friday in August for whites and second Friday for colored.

The Teachers' Institute (white) will be held at Stanford beginning Aug. 20th and lasting 5 days. The law is imperative, requiring every one actually holding a certificate, or expecting to apply for one during the year, to be present, or present a lawful excuse for absence, under penalty of forfeiture of certificate.

Dr. Brown and Alcorn returned from Crab Orchard in good form and an expression of countenance indicating a consciousness of having vindicated the section that gave them birth. Powers is astonishing the world with reduction of prices in carrying out his midsummer clearance sale. E. D. Kennedy is beaming over his success in making up a democratic club. He has 100 names enrolled already and prospects for considerable increase. Mrs. Kate Blain has returned from Knoxville and expects to remain here. Rev. Mr. Randolph is expected to begin a meeting at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, the 20th inst.

The Danger Before Us.

We have already alluded to the importance of housekeepers paying more attention to the kind of baking powder used in leavening their bread. This is a matter to which we cannot draw attention too often, because it is something which involves the most serious consequences to the general body of mankind. Temperance apostles tell us—and there is ample foundation for the statement—that there is disease, both moral and physical, in the intoxicating cup; and in the same way there is disease, slow perhaps, but certain, in the time and alum leavening agents employed in many of the homes on this continent.

No punishment is too severe for those manufacturers who place these poisonous alum and lime baking powders before the public with the assurance that they are pure and wholesome articles. In the belief of the truth of such statements such baking powders are largely used in the preparation of food, and in this way the poisonous ingredients are taken into the system without a suspicion of their presence. By and by come spells of headache, distress in the stomach, loss of appetite, a fluttering of the heart; the child is seized with an apparently causeless cough. The coating of the stomach is destroyed, perhaps; one of the vital organs is rendered almost useless; the kidneys are attacked with Bright's disease. The health of the child is irreparably broken down; the adult becomes a chronic invalid. These are the doings of the modern cheap baking powders that are composed of lime and alum, or that contain sulphuric or phosphoric acids.

In view of these facts surely all housewives should exercise the care that is, we know, not exercised by some in the selection of a proper brand of baking powder. She who does not do so, whether the neglect is the result of ignorance or recklessness, cannot free herself from the responsibility for the health, perhaps life, thereby endangered. No housewife need be ignorant of the quality and composition of the article which she uses to leaven her bread, biscuit and cake. The official reports of the government chemists, who are certainly unprejudiced, have been published and show very well the quality and strength of all the baking powders on the market. The Royal Baking Powder, which is accessible at every hand, is reported absolutely free from lime, alum, phosphoric acid, or any injurious ingredient. It is further stated by the most eminent authorities on food hygiene that food leavened with it is more wholesome than when raised by any other method. Its use is therefore to be commended. It is to be regretted that no other baking powder, when there are so many in the market, some of which will find their way into use, is free from all of these substances. The official analysts assure us, however, that all except the Royal contain either lime or alum. The housekeeper who regards the health of her loved ones should not only order the Royal, but make personal examination to be sure no other brand is sent her in its place.

An exchange gives the following remedy to drive away flies: "Take one teaspoonful each of black and cayenne pepper, pulverized and mixed in a small quantity of molasses and set it in your room. It will drive the flies away and they will not return as long as you keep this in your room. The mixture may be placed on a dish or tin pan."

Whitlaw Reid's castle near New York burned; loss $500,000.

Courts Official Investigation.

(To the Editor Interior Journal.)

CRAB ORCHARD, July 16.—In justice to myself, I would ask a small space in your valuable paper to answer the article from your Crab Orchard correspondent.

As to the complaint, I have heard of that myself, but did not pay any attention to it, as I knew that I was getting the credit for selling all the ardent spirits sold in Crab Orchard and vicinity "and very unjustly," as I have not sold one-half the whisky that has been drunk here since the first of January, by any means as the chronic grumblers can be shown, if they will but take the pains to visit the depot and ascertain from our genial agent the number of jugs and kegs that have been imported to various ones. Your correspondent says, "To our own certain knowledge we know of four barrels being sold." Now, I would like to ask how that knowledge was acquired. As to my certain knowledge your correspondent has been an invalid for seven or eight months and during that time has been upon the streets but very few times. As to declaring my store a nuisance, I would like to inform them that they are discussing impossibilities. If they want to see what can be done in the premises let them prefer charges against me, before the proper tribunal, and if they can prove to the satisfaction of the court that I have violated the law, then the court will certainly revoke my license.

The above would be a much better way of coming to some understanding than to be talking so much.

E. W. JONES.

Her One Little Request.

On the elegantly upholstered sofa in the parlor of Sir Reginald Muldoon sat his only daughter, Vivian, clasped close to the Sunday vest of Adelbert de Ribbion. The shades of evening had long since ceased falling, and all was dark and still save for the ticking of Vivian's Waterbury watch. Suddenly Adelbert, throwing himself upon his knees at the feet of the imperious queen of the "Steenth ward," exclaimed in a faint, accented, but piteous voice:

"Darling Vivian, think how I love you, and promise that you will be mine! I will make any sacrifice to win you for my wife!"

"Will you buy a base-ball season ticket and take me every game?" inquired the girl.

"O, that is too much! Anything but that!" moaned the youth.

"Then away with you!" thundered the noble girl. "Although I love you dearly I can never be yours."

With a groan of unutterable anguish Adelbert rushed from the house and the next day the daughter of Sir Reginald was married to the ticket taker at the polo grounds.—Judge.

"Christian Science," if we understand it aright, is neither christian nor scientific. The foundation of Christian Science is the Berkeleyan philosophy, that matter is not real, that spirit is the only reality; that pain and sickness and all bodily conditions are not bodily conditions at all, but only mental imaginings of bodily conditions, and that, accordingly, if we believe that we are well, we are well; if we believe that we are painful, we suffer no pain. There is nothing new in this philosophy; it is simply a new form of an old agnostic doctrine, which has served a purpose, not only of delusion, but also of demoralization. The grossest sensuality and vice found in the early centuries, a refuge behind it. We have in our own time known of people talking of men and women who were living in acknowledged licentiousness as having "pure souls." It is a natural reaction against materialism, but quite as false in its philosophy, and capable of quite as pernicious results. We advise our readers to have nothing to do with the so-called Christian science.—[Christian Union.]

The purslane, the common yard and garden growth of this section, is one of the best feed for cattle we have. It is said to make the butter as yellow and rich as rye. It grows luxuriantly in nearly every yard and garden of the city, and has been as troublesome to gardeners as original sin, and the wonder "why cumbereth it the ground?" has been universal. Instead of cutting it up and throwing it away, give it to your milk cows. A tea made from this weed gives relief from heat eruption.—[Albany, Ga. News.]

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Corn prospects were never better.

—Mrs. T. J. Hansel died Monday, after a long illness of consumption.

—By proper work Rockcastle will be brought into the democratic ranks.

—Cliff Williams says he will name his boy, arrived last Tuesday, Thurman.

—R. G. Williams has purchased an interest in the drug store of M. C. & D. N. Williams.

—Mrs. Susie Eaton, of Glasgow, returned home Monday, after a visit to A. Catron and relatives at Level Green.

—Those bustling drummers, C. Z. Heller and Jeff Huffaker, spent Sunday here. Dr. Percy Benton has left Wildie and located at Brodhead.

—E. T. Fish has typhoid fever. Dr. Benton is a Cleveland worker. Wm. Stewart, the old original democrat of the county, was in the meeting flourishing a huge bandana.

—A number of good men who have heretofore affiliated with the republicans walked up and inscribed their names for Cleveland and declared their intention to vote the ticket from "end to end."

—An old business man here says it is not the poor man who is the most troublesome when it comes to collecting, but it's those who say, "Well, I'm good; it's all right;" and thus it goes. The poor man scratches around, pays up; his neighbor who is "good" goes on his way with a clear (?) conscience and pays when he gets ready, if that time ever arrives. Some of the best (?) men of the county are on the latter list.

—Rockcastle county loses another of her brightest flowers. Dr. J. T. Flanagan, a prominent and influential physician of Power's Store, Casey county, and Miss Emma Virginia Reppert, a lovely and accomplished young lady, the youngest daughter of J. S. Reppert, Esq., were married Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of J. W. Nesbitt, this place, Elder M. R. Moore officiating. The newly married pair took the noon train for home.

—The democrats of old Rockcastle swarmed from the hills and valleys into town Saturday last in answer to a call from the chairman of the democratic committee, for the purpose of organizing a club. They met at the court-house at 1 p. m. D. N. Williams was named for chairman and James Maret secretary. After the committee on resolutions made their report speeches were in order. Hon. J. A. Craft, elector for this district in a happy vein, demonstrated to the satisfaction of the large and representative audience of democrats the fallacy of keeping up the robber tariff at its present high figure and showed that the democratic party was the real friend to the laboring man. C. C. Williams, the "mountain orator," followed Mr. Craft with one of the best speeches of his life. His tribute to Cleveland and Thurman was grand. The crowd was carried away with his eloquence and yelled itself hoarse over his many telling hits at the opposite party. "Old John Brown" woke the natives when he got started on his few remarks to the boys. He kept them in fine humor, not only illustrating his points by telling anecdotes applicable to the occasion, but by giving old fashioned sledge-hammer blows of common sense throughout his address. After his speech the chairman announced that the secretary was ready to take the names of those wishing to join the club. 128 stepped forward and attached their names, pledging themselves to work for the best interest of the party. The meeting was harmonious and enthusiastic. The chairman announced a convention of democrats to take place here on Saturday, July 28th, to nominate delegates to the Danville congressional convention. The following persons were named as officers of the club. C. C. Williams, President; P. P. Norton, W. R. Cross and R. L. Thompson, Vice-President; James Maret, Secretary and Treasurer.

—The Cincinnati Ice Machine Co. has assigned, with liabilities of $150,000. —Ebenezer Stanyard was hung in the Ohio Penitentiary Friday for the murder of Alice Hancock, whom he tried to rape. Before starting to the gallows he played a tune or two on an accordion and told the newspaper reporters to give him a good send off.

—W. Martin Jones, the Prohibition nominee for Governor of New York, has to meet a serious charge. It is alleged that he compromised a suit against a liquor dealer for $400 and pocketed the money, although part of it was intended for the township interested.

When Gen. Harrison ran against Van Buren in 1836 he was benten. When he beat Van Buren in 1840 the democratic party had been in power for 12 consecutive years. If history is going to repeat itself in the name of Harrison this time, Cleveland will be elected and Harrison will have to wait and try it again.

The total vote of these United States at the Presidential election of 1884 was 10,051,851. This year it should reach close to 12,000,000.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The Garrard County Teachers' Institute will convene Aug. 13th and continue five days.

—H. A. Burdett, who so recently lost his wife, has had to give up a little 5-year-old son, Ben, who died on Monday last.

—Mrs. W. S. Elkin and Willie Watson are visiting relatives in town. Elkin is of Louisville, bingers in our midst. L. F. Hubble, of Birmingham, Ala., is home to see his folks.

—An aged negro, named Clate Doty, while riding a horse near Point Leavell on Sunday, suddenly fell from his horse dead. His horse had been frightened a short time before by a man riding a bicycle and making several jumps with him, must have been the cause of his death.

—The quarterly inspection of Co. G 2d Regiment State Guard (Owsley Rifles), will take place at the company's armory this, Tuesday, night, July 17, at 8 o'clock. The inspection will be made by the company officers, Capt. W. J. Kinnaird and Lieuts. Duncan and Brown. Every one invited.

—Mrs. J. V. Cook is lying quite ill at home near Lancaster. John H. Woodcock, wife and son, are rusticated at Cumberland Falls. James I. Hamilton, of Stanford, was in Lancaster on Sunday. Gen. W. J. Landrum went to London on legal business last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kinnaird visited their daughter, Mrs. W. R. Burnside, a few days since. Mrs. Durant is visiting friends in Cincinnati.

—A report from West Liberty, Ky., states that nearly all the inhabitants of that little village are ill with flux. More than 50 persons are now down with the disease and most of the cases are proving fatal. They are attacked with vomiting, cramps, bleeding from the nose and ears, and, after death turn black.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay City, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: I am 72 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years, could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from pain and soreness and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle and see. At A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running nose. Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced to bed, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and, after using a half dozen bottles, found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.
